Our American Indian Education Fund® (AIEF) program is committed to improving education outcomes for Native students through the School Supplies service, which provides classroom necessities for thousands of PreK-12 students each year.

Shicolbi, a student at Aneth Community School in Utah, is eager to start kindergarten with his backpack of new supplies. While Shicolbi's main responsibility is to be a child and learn, his parents acknowledge the daily challenges they endure. "It helps out a lot, especially for the families who can't get out [to the store]," said Shicolbi's mother Colette.

To offset food insecurity, we offer a produce service on reservations where residents can grab a box stuffed full of fresh fruits and vegetables.

Our Program Partner Lou recently held a produce distribution in Oglala, South Dakota where 56-year-old April brought a box of produce home to her family of eight. April works several jobs to make ends meet and hopes that Native families continue to receive donor support.

NOTE FROM PWNA PRESIDENT & CEO, JOSHUA ARCE

It's been incredible to see our 4D graduate, Tyrone, bring his dream of starting his own farming business and supporting food sovereignty needs for Tribal communities to life. Google Ad Grants has helped raise awareness of our organization and, in turn, helped us provide much-needed services to the reservations we serve. Services like the 4D Program that Tyrone utilized to achieve his dream and better his community are invaluable.

Thank You, Linda!

DONOR SHOWCASE

"I choose to support Partnership With Native Americans because of their two fold mission. One is to provide for current needs, such as wood for the winter to heat their homes. Two, to support life changing initiatives such as easing the housing crisis on the reservations."

-Linda, Illinois

We are incredibly grateful for your generosity and support!

Tell us why you give. Submit your testimonial for a chance to be featured in our next newsletter www.nativepartnership.org/testimonial

Got stock? Did you know that donating stock can make a big impact in the lives of Native Elders, children, and families and save you money in the process?

Here's how:

- When you donate your appreciated assets (stock), you avoid paying capital gains tax.
- If you itemize deductions, you can also take a charitable deduction for the entire donation amount.

GRANT UPDATE

Thanks to a generous grant of $14,000 from the Kroger Co Foundation for food and water distribution, PWNA will be able to expand our efforts to bring healthy non-perishable foods to more Native Americans in need this winter.
